

WORKS IN PROGRESS

March 7, 2002

Welcome and thank you for coming to Dance Space Center's presentation of Works in Progress.

Works in Progress is a showcase series designed to offer any artist, in any medium, the opportunity to present their work in a professional setting, and to receive audience feedback to enrich their creative process.

Please use this program space to write your comments, reactions, interpretations, constructive criticisms, or any other kind of positive feedback you have about the pieces you see tonight. The artists will be reading these comments in order to continue to develop their work, so please be positive — your feedback is what this series is all about!

Works in Progress is now presented every month, always on Thursday nights. We hope you will join us, presenting work of your own. We welcome any kind of stage work — dance, acting, music, singing, spoken word, performance art, or any combination thereof. If you make it, we'll show it. Enjoy the show!!
